

TROUBLES OF A BOSS

Col. Lannan Is Again Without a Candidate.

IN A DESPERATE PLIGHT

BUT BUCKLE AND LYNCH MUST BE PUNISHED.

Mr. Odell Will Decide During the Week Whether He Will Enter the Race—Ezra Thompson Would Not Expect to Carry the Third Precinct.

Interest in politics is monopolized for the hour by the frantic struggles of the Lannans to avert disaster before their campaign is really opened. Colonel Lannan, who is fighting both Buckle and Lynch, has made the discovery that John J. Daly cannot be induced to enter the race, and this drives "the well known editor" to the consideration of other men—any man except Buckle or Lynch.

It is the comment heard on every corner that no matter how candidates rise and fall, Buckle and Lynch are uniformly treated with silent contempt in the columns of the Lannan organ. "Republicans believe in the rule of the people," said one man, with bitterness, "but when it comes to choosing candidates, we must take orders from the man in the saddle. This precedent was established by Hanna at St. Louis. It is to be followed clear down the line, it seems. Well, we'll see."

The refusal of Mr. Daly to jump into the scrimmage and attempt to pull the factions together gives other men their say. Ezra Thompson had quite a boom Saturday, but to judge from current comment, he is regarded as a sort of "Hobson's choice" by the Lannanized faction—they will take him if they can't do better.

Since George A. Lowe, M. H. Walker and John J. Daly have absolutely refused to be used, the batteries have been trained upon George T. Odell, and with such success that Mr. Odell has consented to consider the matter for this week. There is an old saying that he who hesitates is lost. When questioned upon the subject yesterday, Mr. Odell said he was silent at this time, but would give a final answer later in the week.

Ezra Thompson enjoys the situation. A friend assured him that if he ran he would carry the Third precinct. "The devil couldn't carry the Third precinct," was the reply.

This last remark shows, it was said, how very weak Ezra thinks the Republican party has become in the Third.

Those who enjoy a good free-for-all look forward to the present week with gleeful anticipations. They hear the Buckle and Lynch backers curse what they designate as "the Tribune crowd." They see the breach spread wider, and they know that each faction in the three-cornered fight is out for blood, and this means a real nice time for the future.

NEW CITY AUDITOR.

Late Auditor's Son Will Probably Be Appointed.

The unexpected death of City Auditor George Swan was a topic for general discussion yesterday, and naturally the mode of filling the vacancy caused by his death and the person likely to be chosen came in for their due share of the discussion.

The appointment of Mr. Swan's successor will be made by Mayor Clark, by and with the consent and advice of the council, as provided for by the statutes.

No one is authorized to speak for the mayor as to whom he would name for the place, but the opinion seems to prevail that the deceased auditor's son, Douglas A. Swan, will be chosen. This young gentleman was formerly cashier of the First National bank of Provo. He performed the duties of the office of auditor very acceptably for a month last summer, and his father was absent on his vacation, so that he is familiar with the duties of the office.

Mr. Swan's term of office would have expired on the first day of January next. So satisfactory was his record as auditor that his name has been often mentioned as a candidate for a nomination on the Republican ticket this fall, although he was elected two years ago as a non-partisan. The salary of the office is $1,000 per annum.

Democratic friends of Thomas M. Holt have for some time been trying to induce him to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for recorder, and yesterday it was stated that he had decided to enter the race. Mr. Holt has been for some years past connected with the Diamond Coal & Coke company, but severs his connection with that company today.

RESCUE HOME MOVES

Institution Will Go to Twelfth East Street.

GETS A LARGER HOUSE

RESIDENTS OF C STREET ARE REJOICING.

But Those On Twelfth East May Make a Protest—Board of Managers Secure Lease On the Loof-bowrow Residence, Which Is Now Being Fitted Up.

The Rescue Home must go to another locality than that of Sixth and C streets. That was the verdict of the neighbors weeks ago, and soon will be put into execution. The board of managers of the home have leased the old Loof-bowrow residence on Twelfth East, near Brigham street, and are having it fitted up to be used in place of the home's present location. And the neighbors around C street are happy over the removal.

But an unforeseen obstacle has been presented. A Twelfth East resident has announced his intention of keeping the home out of his locality, if possible, and he is backed by most of his neighbors. If the same protest is made up in the eastern part of town as was made along Sixth street, it is yet possible that the board will have trouble.

The Loof-bowrow place, leased by Judge Loof-bowrow, is a two-story frame structure, containing eight rooms and is more commodious than the building now occupied. The lease, in figures, is the equivalent to $25 per month.

PROF. PATHE'S LUCK.

Secures Position as Military Interpreter in Philippines.

Friends of Herman M. G. Pathe, the musician, will be pleased to learn that he has fallen into a lucrative military position, the same being interpreter for the Thirty-ninth infantry, now being recruited at Fort Crook, Neb. Professor Pathe enlisted as a private at Denver, but going on to Fort Crook he failed to pass the physical examination. It was then that the colonel of the regiment, learning of Professor Pathe's familiarity with the Spanish tongue, concluded to take him along as interpreter.

The regiment will go to the Philippines about the first of November, and for his wife and locate there permanently, providing the field is as good as he anticipates. He will probably engage in his profession across the water.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

Chinaman Named Cake Walk Had Part of a Wagon.

Officer Edgington caught a Chinaman, whose name sounds like Cake Walk, carrying a single tree to a Studebaker wagon down Plum alley at 1 o'clock this morning, and run him in for petit larceny. Cake Walk says he bought it of a small boy, but the police theory is that he took it from in front of some implement store, in lieu of money to carry the wagon entire. Walk had $15 in cash on his person and was released on $10 bail.

STATE FAIR DISPLAY

Army of People Getting Exhibits In Shape.

ENTRIES CLOSE TODAY

EVERYTHING WILL BE IN SHAPE TOMORROW.

Over 1,400 Entries Have Been Made and This Year's Fair Will Be the Most Successful Ever Held—Four Thousand Fools Will Be On Exhibition.

An army of men and women is at work at the state fair grounds arranging exhibits, hammering, pounding and piling boxes on boxes to make a display which will delight the crowds that will flock to the grounds tomorrow. This is going to be the most successful fair that Utah has ever seen, for there are more entries than ever before.

Putting Up the Decorations.

There are over 1,400 entries of exhibits of all classes and these, including horses, cattle, chickens, manufacturing and agricultural products, must be in place this evening. The entries close this afternoon.

Within the main building the exhibits and booths are yet in some disorder. Boxes of goods are strewn over the floor ready to be placed in artistic and attractive appearance; carpenters are at work building shelves and stalls for the goods laying about and those to come today. Secretary Sears said yesterday afternoon that the exhibits must be in place and the rubbish cleaned out of the building by Tuesday morning.

In the south wing, where many carpenters are at work, there are yet no signs of the many things which will fill it. But there will be honey and bees and agricultural products, the best which Utah can produce. Such things cannot be moved in until the last moment. The many and varied attractions of the main hall are too numerous to permit detailed description. But every bit of space is taken up with exhibits of goods sold by Salt Lake firms, and some of them have been placed in an artistic manner.

On the south side of the main building will be placed the fruit of all kinds in all methods of preserving. It is now kept on cold storage, so that it will be fresh when placed on the shelves. Secretary Sears said that it will be the finest show of fruit the state has ever known.

But the many visitors from the country who will flock into Salt Lake during the church conference will probably be chiefly interested in the cattle, horse and chicken exhibits. All the stalls about the north, east and south sides have been taken. On the north and east side are the blooded cattle, showing magnificent animals. There will be Holstein, Devon, Jersey, Herefords, Durham, shorthorn and polled stock. The exhibit of Herefords from Sanpete county is already in. The police cattle will surprise many farmers. One exhibitor has a 2-year-old steer which weighs over 1,800 pounds.

During yesterday afternoon these bulls and heifers were being carried and washed as carefully as thoroughbred race horses. Wild yearlings just off the range, and yet frisky and troublesome, were greatly surprised at these attentions. They resented the soap and water with their heads and horns.

There will be over 4,000 chickens and fowls of every description to awake residents about the grounds at daylight each morning.

The arrangement for giving prizes is such that there will be absolute fairness. The names of the judges will not be published and the exhibitors will not know who are to judge their productions after the award.

Chief Devine will be at the fair grounds after 9 o'clock this morning to assign stalls to the various exhibitors of horses.

DEEP CREEK AT THE FAIR.

"Doc" Faust Will Have An Exhibition From That Camp.

"Doc" H. J. Faust does not propose to see the Deep Creek country left out at the coming state fair. He has prepared an exhibit of ores from that camp, and it is said it will be one of the most creditable mineral exhibitions ever shown in Salt Lake from any single camp.

NATIONAL GUARD DESERTERS

NELSON AND DE SHAZO WERE ARRESTED.

Captured By a State Militia Detail, Made to Give Up Their Uniforms and Released.

It develops now that the national guard gave deserters Bert De Shazo and Albert Nelson a turn before the law. It was known that they had so unceremoniously left the cavalry at the presidio. The boys were deserters from the national guard, as well as the regular army, and had their uniforms when they returned from San Francisco. They were detected by a company B to find and arrest the men. Accordingly, a week ago yesterday, Nelson was taken into custody at the corner of Second South and State streets by the guardmen. He gave up his uniform and was released. The detail had him in custody out near the old copper plant the same night and, securing his uniform, allowed him to depart in peace. The state soldiers acted innocently in the matter, not knowing the facts, and when on Monday it became known to the recruiting officers that the guard had had the men they wanted so much, there was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. De Shazo and Nelson, however, as has been published, was later turned over to the officers by his sister and displayed in the city, but could not be apprehended.

LIVERYMAN ARRESTED.

Young Man Refused to Pay the Sum Demanded.

A liveryman in the employ of Tom McCoy was arrested for assault and battery last night, upon the complaint of J. Rance, a young man who hired a rig yesterday afternoon. Rance refused to pay $2 for the rental of the outfit, but when he returned, it is alleged, the stable man demanded $10, on the claim that Rance had caused the horse. Rance refused to pay it, an altercation ensued, and the young man was knocked down. The man arrested is the name of John Doe. He procured $10 bail and was released.
